

The first 3G watchphone available in France exclusively with Orange

A technological masterpiece available from 6 August 2009 at orange.fr

The LG GD910 is the world's first 3G touch watchphone. This 3G watchphone from LG Electronics is a masterpiece of miniaturisation and innovation which any new technology and gadget fans will find irresistible. With its 1.43" tempered glass touchscreen, this slimline – less than 14mm thick – elegant watchphone with fold fastening strap has all the features you expect of a watch (world clock, stopwatch and splash resistant – IPX4 standard). It is 3G/3G+ compatible, giving it excellent compatibility with Orange 3G/3G+ mobile broadband.*

A watch with a clean, elegant design, the LG GD910 also boasts the features of the most advanced mobile phones: touchscreen with simple, fluid interface, VGA camera, MP3 player, diary, dictaphone, etc.

A unique mobile for communicating differently in any circumstances

This telephone is worn as a watch and allows the user to call, send and receive SMS, make video calls and be contacted at any time, for example during a sports session or shopping trip. Bluetooth technology makes the watchphone practical and comfortable to use (keypad, loudspeaker function or earpiece). It features LG's most advanced voice recognition and synthesis technologies, which are particularly useful when on the move.

It is available from 6 August 2009 exclusively from Orange at its website orange.fr, starting from €899 with subscription to an Origami star, first, jet or Origami plus package (12 or 24-month contract)**. The LG GD910 is also available for Orange customers as part of the "Changer de Mobile" (Change your Mobile) Programme.

*78% of the population covered by 3G/3G+, 99% by EDGE in mainland France

** Offers subject to conditions and valid in mainland France, subject to Edge/3G/3G+ coverage. Orange may limit speeds for usages of over 500MB/1GB a month depending on the package chosen until billing date

About Orange

Orange is the key brand of France Telecom, one of the world's leading telecommunications operators. With 124.5 million customers, the Orange brand now covers Internet, television and mobile services in the majority of countries where the Group operates. At the end of 2008, France Telecom had consolidated sales of 53.5 billion euros (25.5 billion euros for the first half of 2009) and at 30 June 2009, the Group had a customer base of 186 million customers in 32 countries. These include 125.5 million mobile customers and 13.4 million broadband Internet (ADSL) customers worldwide. Orange is the number three mobile operator and the number two provider of broadband Internet services in Europe and, under the brand Orange Business Services, is one of the world leaders in providing telecommunication services to multinational companies.

The Group's strategy, which is characterized by a strong focus on innovation, convergence and effective cost management, aims to establish Orange as an integrated operator and benchmark for new telecommunications services in Europe. Today the Group remains focused on its core activities as a network operator, while working to develop its position in new growth activities. To meet customer expectations, the Group strives to provide products and services that are simple and user-friendly, while maintaining a sustainable and responsible business model that can be adapted to the requirements of a fast-paced and changing eco-system.

France Telecom (NYSE:FTE) is listed on Euronext Paris (compartment A) and on the New York Stock Exchange.
