

The fitness room

Podcast on mobile

stock up your mobile while you're asleep

What is it?

With Orange mobile you can now automatically receive multimedia content (audio or video) that you have predefined on your mobile without going through the online platform of your mobile.

- comfort: any content chosen by the user is sent directly to his mobile every day during the night. Sending is managed automatically: once the content has been selected, all the user has to do is listen to or watch the content downloaded
- easy access: instant access to content received on the mobile, no need to log on to the Internet. New content is stored on the mobile and the user is advised of arrival.
- variety: the user selects content from a wide choice of digital radio or TV content - 100 channels for 8 categories of content: news, humour, music, etc. from Orange world, radios and online TV
- capacity: with this offering, you can receive up to 1 hour's audio content and/or 10 minutes video content per day.

Find out more

- how to subscribe: once you have downloaded the application and installed it on your mobile, you simply choose content from your mobile or the Internet
- interfaces: mobile, web and wap
- price: €5 a month (traffic and content included) for 5 videos a day
- launch: September 2007 (France), 1st quarter 2008 (United Kingdom)